All of our products are intended for outdoor use, and so don't require any care or maintenance to last for many years (if not centuries). The only exception is our fountains, which should be drained and the pump removed, if freezing temperatures are expected.

Over time, our stone products will develop a natural patina of moss and lichens as they weather. If desired, this surface patina can be removed with a pressure washer. We recommend you never use harsh chemicals, acids or bleach on stone.

Carefully carved by human hands, making each piece unique. Guaranteed by Mother Nature to last a lifetime.

GRANITE

Granite is an igneous rock typically formed as a result of volcanic activity. Due to its strength and durability, it is a great choice for garden statuary products because it will last forever and should appreciate in value as it ages.

Quarried

Some of the products we make come from granite that is quarried in 20,000 pound blocks and sawn, chiseled and carved to our specifications.

Boulder

Granite boulders come in many sizes, shapes and colors and are collected from mountains, streams or fields. The outside surface of a boulder has a beautiful patina that is the result of hundreds or thousands of years of weathering.

Stone Age Creations, located in Ohio, has been designing exceptional natural stone statuary for over 20 years. Trust that when you buy a product from Stone Age Creations, it is second to none.
