All of our products are intended for outdoor use, and so don't require any care or maintenance to last for many years (if not centuries). The only exception is our fountains, which should be drained and the pump removed, if freezing temperatures are expected.

Over time, our stone products will develop a natural patina of moss and lichens as they weather. If desired, this surface patina can be removed with a pressure washer. We recommend you never use harsh chemicals, acids or bleach on stone.

Carefully carved by human hands, making each piece unique. Guaranteed by Mother Nature to last a lifetime.

SANDSTONE

Sandstone is a sedimentary rock formed when sand is bonded together by the minerals that percolate through it over thousands of years. The sandstone used in our products has been quarried since the 1800s and is very durable.

Quarried

Some of the products we offer were quarried recently then cut and carved into functional products for your garden.

Reclaimed

Some of the sandstone products we offer are made from stone that was quarried nearly 100 years ago. These stones may have been used as a foundation for a house, barn or bridge, the curb along a road or as a sidewalk.

Stone Age Creations, located in Ohio, has been designing exceptional natural stone statuary for over 20 years. Trust that when you buy a product from Stone Age Creations, it is second to none.
